Receiving the body shell

It looks like for this build I am pretty much on my own - no real solid instructions anywhere.

The instructions are out there, but just in many locations and bits and pieces.

This should give you some direction and help. This was done for the IFG kit and believe yours is a spinoff of the D&R. (NOTE: D&R normally had separate bumpers, where this is more like the B&B Customs design with the integrated bumper.
