

Got my Transaxle for the Diabolic 6.0, and it's the good one too "016"

I can't believe I found the "016" model. I bet I went to at least 20 salvage yards and called at least 10. And the funny thing is the place I most thought would not have it, was the place that had one up in the last shelf on the top. I was like check that one and bam, that was the one! I didn't have to drive out to Houston either. Anyways, time to build the adapter for engine. The reason I haven't sent you pictures of the rear end of diabolic is I need to make it around the engine and transaxle. To make sure everything fits. Will send those soon! Have a Great Weekend...
