

I am using AutoLoc Bear Claw latches (small). They look very similar to the OEM Lambo latches. Check them out. The Price was around $40 for both. The rear engine lid uses 2 latches, 1 on each side.

Almost done, today I will be adding 2 layers of black fiberglass to inner part of hood to replicate the OEM.

I have 2 opening settings, factory and I can also open it all the way for better access to a/c, battery and brake booster, etc.

These are Trunk hinges from a Honda civic 4door. I flipped them to achieve the Lambo OEM look. Hood opens up and away from windshield.
