

Hi Bob, Figuring out all the wiring....allot of wires! Reed

Wires for dash before gauge console is installed.

WOW – Looking like a real Lamborghini dash. I got the instrument cluster back from the upholsterer and installed in the car along with all the gauges including the air pressure gauges in the console. So far everything works, still have to figure out the parking brake indicator, it works with closing the ground which I am a little confused with but I will figure it out.
