

Bob,

This build still have been slow here, but I think I might have someone to build it for me. His name is Jay Hansell and he's done plenty to know what he's doing. He was referred to me by your link/guy on your site. I'm on a strict budget and I think he'll be able to meet it too. We'll see. I'm sure there will be plenty of photos for you to post and plenty of email from Jay to you since he's never put one of the B&B kits together. I'll let you know more as it happens. Thanks.

Best Regards,

Scott "Scotty G." Gorman
